

06 Jolly Covid Postman - a page of puzzles.

Create 2 puzzles, one crossword and one wordsearch. Put them in the boxes and then print.

Crossword

Write your own crossword puzzle, you need to choose some words (maybe some linked to fairy tales) and then write clues to go with them. The clue should make the person reading it be able to work out what word goes in that line of boxes. Some words go across (horizontal) and some clues go down (vertical). They will share letters with the other words where they 'cross' which is why it is called a cross word!

Here's an example of a little crossword with the clues and then what it would look like once someone has worked out the answers and written them in.

The old lady relative that Little Red Riding Hood went to visit.	Down <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. This is another word that means happy.2. What you call a man (in the UK) who works delivering letters to houses.3. Anagram (mix up of the letters to make another word) of TOPS5. 'Hansel and ...' The sister of Hansel in the fairytale.

You can try drawing your own crossword on squared paper or there is a handy program on the website below where you type in words with clues and it will create a blank crossword using your words and clues. The program gives you 10 words and clues to write but you can write less than this or if you want more then 'add more lines' to put in more words and clues if you want to make a longer puzzle. As soon as you have written as many clues as you want on your puzzle then scroll down to a big button that says "make crossword puzzle" and hit it!

Wordsearch

Write your own wordsearch puzzle - this is easier and can again be done by hand on squared paper or you can use the program below. If you do it by hand try and use capital letters as that is the style of wordsearches.
